Scout Program

Boy Scouts can earn the Space Exploration Merit Badge in a five and a half hour program. Boy Scouts will build, launch and recover model rockets, learn how space shuttles and rockets work, discover what elements a space station must have to be successful and then design their own orbiting space station. Scouts will have the opportunity to earn the Space Exploration Merit Badge. Space is limited and registration deadline 30 Jun 2009. There are two sessions planned, each session requires 25 scouts to cover fees. Fees refunded only if the session is cancelled.
